Early Termination

Like most studios and schools, our class instruction is designed to help students progress to a certain level during a full school season. We understand that some circumstances may require your child to leave us before the current class season ends. If this is the case, parents will be responsible for a 30-day termination fee in addition to the final month's tuition. We encourage students to try a class, free of charge. However, after registering with us, we discourage dropping in and out as all the other students are progressing forward and this would put your child at a developmental disadvantage. _____ Initial
